BASE-BALL.BROOKLYN WON HANDS DOWN.

Took First of Games for the Trophy Cup from Pittsburgh.

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., October 15.—The post office ball game between Brooklyn and Pittsburgh for the world's championship and possession of a $500 trophy cup, was begun to-day at Exposition Park in the presence of 4,000 enthusiastic fans. The first game was won by Brooklyn with hands down. Brooklyn, the "Reds," had his own completely mystified, allowing his bumpy hits up to the seventh. In the eighth he hit a batter, gave a base on balls, and two hits, saving Pittsburgh a shut out.

Score: R. H. E. Brooklyn..... 00000000-2 2 1 Pittsburgh..... 0003101000-5 12 1 Batteries—Waddell and Zimmer; McGilley and McGuire. Time, 1:30. Umpires, Surt and Swartwood.

RICHMOND COLLEGE WON.

A Pretty Game Played With a Score of 6 to 0.

The football season was opened here yesterday afternoon by Richmond College and Randolph-Macon in one of the closest and most interesting games ever played at Broad-Street Park. The teams were quite even matched in training and in weight. Richmond College probably having a little the advantage in the latter.

They went on the field at 4 o'clock in good trim with all men in good condition with the exception of Captain Todd, of the Richmond College team, who had not quite recovered from an injury to his left leg received in the game against Virginia. However, he played good ball until the last of the second half on account of a slight sprain to the same leg. Neither side was able to score in the first half, and it was not until the latter part of the second that Richmond skinned right end and made the only score of the game from the forty yard line.

The ball was put in play after this by Randolph-Macon, and on the first down Ellyson, repeated the performance, making a beautiful run of eighty yards, dodging the full back, and with good speed left the whole team at his heels and placed the pike between the goal posts. This play was not allowed and the ball was brought back to where it was put in play, on account of time having been called just before the ball was snapped. This ruling of the referee caused some delay in the play, as it was hotly contested. His decision prevailed, and the ball was again put in play by Richmond College on their thirty yard line. From that time until the close of the game the play was in the center of the field.

Both teams showed up well on the defensive, but seemed a little weak on the offensive. This was the first game played by Randolph-Macon this season and the second by Richmond College, they having been defeated by the University two weeks ago.

The attendance was fairly good, there being in the grandstand about two hundred spectators. At no time did the interest in the game lag, as it was anybody's game until the last of the last half.

NEAR THE BOND LIMIT.

This May Not Affect the Building of the New Jail.

Since Judge Witt has issued a rule summoning the members of the City Council to appear before the Hastings Court to show cause why they should not build a new city jail, there has been much quiet talk about the actual condition of Richmond's finances. Some of the city fathers are anxious to have a jail erected at once by issuing bonds, without having to sacrifice any of the city's property by throwing it on the market at this time.

According to the figures shown in the recent report of the city assessors the city has issued almost as large an amount of bonds as the limit prescribed by the charter will permit. The recent total assessment was $42,057,770, while the city debt is $7,227,382. The charter only allows bonds to the extent of eighteen per cent. of the total amount of the property assessed. This would only have a margin of $37,257, and it is felt by most of the Councilmen that this should not be encroached upon except in the event of disaster or pestilence. The chances are, however, that the jail will be erected with funds raised by the sale of practically unproductive property owned by the city.

He said the money to complete the building was actually in sight.

Mr. Herbert F. Cox was elected a deacon of the church.

DISTILLERS FLED.

Sam Rendit Has Frightened Them in a Terrible Manner.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

BOYDTON, Va., Oct. 15.—The lower end or eastern portion of Mecklenburg has been powerfully worked up since the destruction of the stills, and the distillers, which were cut to pieces on Friday by Deputy Marshal Sam Rendit, assisted by Capt. Charles Gee, deputy collector, officers found some old cellars of beer, fermented and ready for distilling, which was also destroyed. The owners of the distilleries have taken leg bail.

The city where the stills were established is near the North Carolina line, and the officers say the moonshiners have carried on their illicit business for a while on the border of North Carolina, passing from one State into another, as it might be necessary.

There are quite a number of those interested in this business. The liquor made by them, I am told by a revenue officer, is very strong, being distilled from a mixture of sorghum molasses and corn. Deputy Rendit has been in the county several days hunting up these moonshiners, and has them on the run. Illicit distilleries have been operated in various sections of Mecklenburg for some time, and the owners have had full sway, no one interfering with them, so that a revenue man would come bumbling around, which would frighten them for a while, but as soon as he left they went on distilling just the same.

A little more than a week ago Mr. Hicks went into the woods, a short distance from his home, to gather grapes. Soon afterwards his son, Robert, who was hunting, happened to pass and found his father in this precarious condition and released him.

Mary Stuart Smith.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, Va., Oct. 15.—Miss Mary Stuart Smith, daughter of Prof. Francis H. Smith, of this University of Virginia, died this morning at the residence of her father, about 11:30 o'clock.

Miss Smith had been for many years an invalid and a sufferer. In early childhood the irremediable injury, which was to sap her strength and shorten her days, revealed its presence; and the years that followed were spent in the brave but useless struggle to restrain the advance of the invincible malady. Slowly, but inevitably, its destructive work was done, and to-day the victim of its power gently and peacefully breathed away her innocent life.

It was her part to know no hour without its pang, and yet to pass no hour without its smile; to sweeten existence for all about her with an unconquerable gaiety and grace; to win a universal sympathy; to exchequer universal charm. Without formal tuition she made herself a widely read, and intelligent woman. Despite constant suffering, her life was brightened by the radiance of a cheerful and courageous heart. She made for herself a career, and her home, in the society, in the Sunday-school, in the church. None who knew her can fail to miss her sunny countenance, her radiant cheerfulness, her swift and gentle wit. None who loved her mourn that from this sad hour they know no more of pain or grief, and bears no more the burden of suffering and of fears.
